Willy Brandt Beaten

Erhard Victor In German Vote

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and his Christian Democratic party kept their leadership of West Germany in an election triumph for the chubby government chief.

The voters decided Sunday that after 16 years of Christian Democratic rule they wanted more of the same. The turnout was 86.9 per cent of the eligible voters.

The election results, giving 15,392,973 votes to Erhard's party, disappointed the challenging Social Democrats and their chancellor candidate, Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin. His party tallied 12,711,726 votes.

Although Erhard's party won the biggest share of the votes, it did not get an absolute majority and is certain to continue its coalition with the Free Democrats.

The Free Democrats cornered 9.5 per cent of the popular vote, compared with 12.8 per cent in 1961.

Erhard told a nationwide television audience: "We are determined to continue our present policy which has won the voters' approval."

This means continued strong support for the Atlantic alliance, the Common Market and business-oriented domestic policies.

It also means a trip to Washington for Erhard to confer with President Johnson. Erhard has said he would carry it out "as soon as possible."

Test Case, Rally Told

Mine Walkout In 3 States May Spread To Kentucky

POWHATAN POINT, Ohio (AP) — A United Mine Workers local president, one of six miners whose firing touched off a strike that has idled 5,600 mine workers in three states, says the strike will continue and may spread to Kentucky.

Karl Kafton, president of Local 1110 at the Hanna Coal Co.'s Ireland Mine at Moundsville, W. Va., told some 3,000 miners at a rally here Sunday their is a "test case" and asked for continued support.

He said Kentucky Districts 23 and 30 of the mine workers union have indicated they are prepared to join the walkout. There were some members of District 23 at the rally along with those from West Virginia's District 31, Pennsylvania Districts 4 and 5 and District 6, covering Eastern Ohio and the northern West Virginia panhandle, where the strike began Sept. 7.

The walkout began after Kafton and five other miners were fired by Hanna for allegedly taking part in an unauthorized strike the week before. Both union officials and the company call the walkout unauthorized and Hanna says it will not negotiate the dispute over the firings until the mine is back in operation.

Mine Workers International strip and overturned. Damaged strip was estimated at $7,000.

Skirmishing Blamed On Red Troops

Premier Declares Communists Strive To Dominate Asia

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri declared today Communist Chinese troops are firing across the Indian frontier in two sectors and that Peking is out to dominate all of Asia.

The Chinese, though pretending they want peace, have started firing in the Sikkim area on the eastern front and in the Ladakh region of Kashmir State on the western front, Shastri said.

China's "basic objective," Shastri said, "is to attain a position of dominance in Asia."

The prime minister declared that notes and protests from Peking make it clear that:

"What China is looking for is not the redress of grievances, real or imaginary, but some excuse to start its aggressive activities again, this time in collusion with its ally Pakistan."

If China persists, Shastri said, "We shall defend ourselves by all the means at our disposal."

Socialist leader Nath Pai jumped to his feet and demanded to know whether Indian units on the China frontier had been ordered to fire back.

"I would merely wish to say we will resist them; we will fight them," Shastri replied.

Shastri made no reply to the resolution passed earlier today by the U.N. Security Council in New York, demanding India and Pakistan end their war within 48 hours.

India's Defense Ministry announced earlier that Chinese troops had moved close to "all the passes" on Tibet's border with Sikkim, an Indian protectorate, and that Pakistan also is massing troops on India's eastern frontiers.

The ministry said latest reports indicated Chinese troops have come quite close to all the passes on the Sikkim border. In some cases, they have been seen to be digging it.

The Chinese were seen in two new areas, the ministry said. It identified them as the Hot Spring and Fukche areas of the Ladakh region of northeast Kashmir State.

Communist China today followed up the extension of its border ultimatum to India with a charge that Indian troops had fired on a Chinese border guard.

An Indian spokesman denied the charge and said the Chinese claims were "mere fabrications." He accused China of "indulging in provocative activities."

Indian news agencies reported it was the Chinese who had fired first.

"We know what the contract says," Kafton noted. "But this goes deeper than the contract. It's a conspiracy."

Another local union president, Leonard McVay of Powhatan Point, told to Sunday's rally, said it was the consensus of most of those present that the six were unjustifiably discharged and that the walkout would continue.

The agency's dispatch from Lhasa, capital of Chinese controlled Tibet, did not make it clear whether the Chinese fired back.

It was the fourth time this month that China accused India of violating its frontier. On Saturday, the Chinese claimed three Indian soldiers had intruded near the village of Demchok.

India in turn asserted that fresh Red Chinese troops were advancing through the Himalayan passes toward India's northern frontier.

The Indian Defense Ministry said the Chinese took up positions near Ladakh, a disputed area of northeast Kashmir. This was one of the sectors where the Chinese crossed over in their invasion of India three years ago.

Driving a tractor - trailer carried fire brick, he lost control and the rig crossed the median strip and overturned. Damaged strip was estimated at $7,000.

Pursued Motorist Sideswipes Auto Of Koppers Employee

BEAVER — Miss Helen Frances Jones, 32, of 110 Sycamore Dr., Brighton Township, died Sunday at 11:50 p. m. after a car pursued by police sideswiped her auto and caused it to crash into an overpass of the Pennsylvania & Lake Erie Railroad here.

Miss Jones, who worked at Sinclair Koppers Co. plant in Potter Township, was on her way home when a car driven by Neil Douglas Whittingham of Beaver sideswiped her auto, driving it into the wall of the overpass.

In Bloody Fighting

Big Toll Claimed By Paratroopers

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. paratroopers killed 155 Viet Cong in bloody fighting near Ah Khe over the weekend, military authorities said today.

An officer who came here from the fighting area 250 miles to the north said 100 Viet Cong bodies were found today in a trench. They apparently were victims of air strikes that saturated the operational area in support of paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Brigade.

The report came while the 101st "Screaming Eagle" troopers kept up sporadic contact with the Viet Cong Monday and paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade continued their hunt for Viet Cong in the jungles and rubber plantations around Ben Cat, 30 miles north of Saigon.

Casualties for the 101st also were described as light.

In another highlands action elements of the newly arrived 1st Cavalry Division Airmobile killed two guerrillas Sunday night as the Viet Cong probed around the paratroopers' base camp at An Khe. American losses were described as light.

Stronger than the two previous resolutions, it asked Thant to help "ensure supervision of the cease-fire and withdrawal." It also asked him to "exert every possible effort to give effect to this resolution," and to report back.

The resolution said that, after a cease-fire and withdrawal, the council would consider "what steps could be taken to assist toward a settlement of the political problem underlying the present conflict."

It called on India and Pakistan to utilize all peaceful means to this end.

No Letup Due As Congress Keeps Rolling

Adjournment Date Moved Back Again In Busy Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, speeding past another of its hoped-for adjournment dates, plunges into a busy week today with no let-up in sight.

There was a time when the members thought they would be home by mid-September; now the optimists talk about mid-October, but not very loudly.

Earlier it had been reported that the 101st had killed 55 Viet Cong and captured 12 in the fighting 17 miles northeast of An Khe. Four were said to have been killed Sunday night. Then later it was announced that an additional 100 bodies had been found.

Casualties for the 101st also were described as light.

In another highlands action elements of the newly arrived 1st Cavalry Division Airmobile killed two guerrillas Sunday night as the Viet Cong probed around the paratroopers' base camp at An Khe. American losses were called light.

A flight of B-52 bombers hit a target in Vinh Vinh Province 90 miles south of Saigon in the 28th reported strike by the planes in the war. It was the second strike in two days in the delta.

U.S. authorities said Air Force planes flew a record 524 sorties over North Viet Nam in the week ending Sept. 17. The previous high was 468 sorties, flown during week ending Sept. 10.

The 173rd Paratroopers now have been operating for almost a week in an area just north of Saigon that long has been defined to government forces by strong Viet Cong elements.

Seven Viet Cong have been killed, three wounded and 25 captured so far in the 173rd Operation, which is supported by Vietnamese, New Zealand and Australian troops, a U.S. military spokesman said.

American losses there were described as light by military authorities.

Resolution Firmest Yet By Council

Reds' Government Extends Its Order Until Wednesday

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council demanded today that India and Pakistan order a cease-fire in 48 hours.

The council voted 10-0 in a postmidnight session to adopt a resolution in those terms strengthening its unanimous cease-fire appeals of Sept. 4 and 6. Jordan abstained.

The resolution, sponsored by the Netherlands, gave an implied warning to Communist China to stay out of the India-Pakistan fighting. It called on "all states to refrain from any action which might aggravate the situation in the area."

Peking has extended until Wednesday an ultimatum to India to dismantle China-Sikkim border fortifications or face "grave consequences."

Security Council delegates had stood by for more than 15 hours while J.G. De Beus of the Netherlands wrangled agreement on the wording from the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France.

The resolution did not contain what Secretary-General U Thant had suggested — an implied threat to invoke coercive provisions of the U.N. Charter unless India and Pakistan complied. But it left the way open for such action if the council deems it necessary.

Stronger than the two previous resolutions, it asked Thant to help "ensure supervision of the cease-fire and withdrawal."

It also asked him to "exert every possible effort to give effect to this resolution," and to report back.

The resolution said that, after a cease-fire and withdrawal, the council would consider "what steps could be taken to assist toward a settlement of the political problem underlying the present conflict."

It called on India and Pakistan to utilize all peaceful means to this end.

Hancock Deputies Cite Waitress In Beer Sale

Hancock County sheriff's deputies entered the Riviera Club on State Route 2 near Pugh's town shortly after midnight this morning and arrested two persons in connection with alleged after-hours sale of beer.

Darlene Wells, 26, of East Liverpool, the waitress, was charged with dispensing beer after hours. She posted a $107 bond pending a hearing before Judge John D. Herron of New Cumberland Friday.

Charles Taylor, 30, of Chester, R. D. 1 was charged with consumption of beer after hours. Taylor posted a $32 bond for a hearing Friday.

Betsys' Toll Still Mounts

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The death toll continues to inch upward as Hurricane Betsy's flood waters recede and salvage and cleanup workers move in.

Two drowned New Orleans residents were found in a city flood area Sunday, boosting the state's total to 78.

The National Guard had reduced its emergency force to 291 today. There were 2,700 Guardsmen in disaster areas after the hurricane struck 10 days ago.

The Red Cross reported 7,614 evacuees remained in 11 shelters, with another 8,000 being fed by mobile kitchen units.

At Baton Rouge, 85 miles up the Mississippi River, an Army diver, working blind in the muddy water, resumes his painstaking bare hand inspection of a sunken barge loaded with deadly chlorine.

The barge, with 600 tons of chlorine aboard in four steel tanks, was sunk by the hurricane in 60 feet of water near the Louisiana State campus.

Officials want to know what shape the barge is in after the wild ride which sent it to the bottom.

Chlorine, a common industrial chemical, can be extremely dangerous if accidentally released from a pressure tank. Coast Guard boats escorted all river traffic around the danger point.

Man To Receive Army Decoration —47 Years Late

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The Army's third highest combat decoration is going to a 69-year-old Brookline crane operator — 47 years after the battle.

Otis B. Merrithew gets the Silver Star for his part in the Argonne Forest battle in which Sgt. Alvin York won the Medal of Honor.

"Sgt. York and I fought side-by-side," Merrithew says.

The Army did not explain the long delay in approving the award. Merrithew says he wrote to President Johnson recently telling his side of the story.

York was credited with killing 25 Germans and capturing 132 others "practically unassisted." His life story was the subject of a 1941 movie, "Sergeant York," starring Gary Cooper.

Merrithew says he was the Cpl. William B. Cutting in the story. He says he ran away from home to enlist and gave a false name.

Merrithew and others have tried to get official recognition for his part in the battle.

The Army plans to make the presentation for his "gallantry" in France at 1st Army Headquarters on Governors Island, N.Y., Oct. 8, the 47th anniversary of the battle.

To Win The War

Armchair Generals Offer Ideas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air and protecting Americans from drops of rattlesnakes, itching harm, powder and carpet tacks. One-way mirrors to make American soldiers invisible. A chain link fence to keep Communist reinforcements out of South Viet Nam.

These are some of the hundreds of suggestions sent to the Defense Department by citizens anxious to help win the war.

Such letters — some typewritten, some hand scrawled — arrive at the office of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara at the rate of about 40 or 50 a week. Others go directly to the various armed services.

Although some of the ideas are bizarre, many appear carefully thought out. All evidently are sincere.

No matter how odd an idea may seem, its author gets a thank you letter from the Defense Department. Some of the writers obviously realize their ideas are way out. One of them wrote, "I won't mind if you smile."

A random check of the letters indicates people would like to give the military professionals a hand in rooting out and killing elusive Viet Cong guerrillas say invisible."

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff rescheduled the hearing for Charles Gower, 321 Virginia Ave., for Friday morning at the request of Gower's counsel, Atty. Bernard Fineman. His bond of $500 was continued.

Real Estate Head Ex-Local Man Named Points To Boost In Home Buying

CLEVELAND (AP) — "More people want to buy homes, and there is more money available than ever to help them finance homes," says Ralph F. Yeager, president of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards.

Yeager, of Cincinnati, gave that appraisal of the real estate market as the association launched its 56th annual statewide convention Sunday.

Demand for homes comes with formation of new families as the "war baby" generation matures.

In addition, more families are being moved more frequently by their employers, adding more movement to the real estate market, Yeager observed.

His wife, the former Suzanne

Moss of Omaha, Neb., is an English instructor at John Carroll University in Cleveland. A graduate of the University of Omaha in 1958, she received a master's degree at Northwestern in 1959. She hopes to complete work for a doctor of philosophy degree in February.

Attending the graduation rites were Kincaid's mother and aunt, Mrs. N. H. Hinerman of Cameron, W. Va.

'Let There Be, Uh, Peace'

U Thant says he had useful conversations about the prospect of peace between India and Pakistan. The United Nations secretary general says peace is possible.

This is more than he has said about the prospect of peace between the United States and North Viet Nam.

It is more than he will say about the prospect of peace between the Chinese People's Republic and India, if they start to fight. The Chinese People's Republic is outside the peace pale.

Neither U Thant nor his predecessor could make progress toward real peace in Korea, either. An uneasy truce there keeps the United States and North Korea from going at each other tooth and nail.

Not all the blandishments of all the diplomats, nor the pleadings of the peace-makers have settled World War II in Europe, where there is no peace 20 years after the battle-weary belligerents withdrew to fortified positions and prepared for an indefinite siege.

THERE IS NO peace in the Dominican Republic, where U.S. Marines landed in traditional manner last spring and in equally traditional manner settled down into economic appeasement.

"Let there be, uh, peace," implores the United States. "Do as we peace-makers say, not as we do."

One Inescapable Conclusion

In the second round of what is being billed as the Ohio Fair Trail-Free Press Conference, participants reached no firmer conclusions than they had reached in the first round — or will reach in subsequent rounds, if they keep on sparing.

They are up against one inescapable conclusion.

Whatever they may wish for in the way of improvement and reform must be stacked up against generations of successful experience.

Throughout the generations, lawyers have wished they could run the newspapers to suit themselves and newspapermen have wished they could run the courts and the legal profession. Conflict is built into their relationship.

Some lawyers know how to handle publicity about their clients and themselves like professional public relations experts.

Some newspapermen think they know all about law and judges and what is best for all parties concerned in legal proceedings.

If anyone ever nursed an illusion that these disparate elements of this complex society could get along like innocent lambs

Why Turn Criminals Loose?

Four criminal defendants arrested on charges of robbery, murder and narcotics are released on bonds, pending trial.

The same day, the next day or soon thereafter, the same four defendants are arrested again for robbery and other crimes of violence committed while free on bond.

Where did this occur—in Harlem or the Watts area of Los Angeles? Not at all. It happened recently in Washington, D.C., in the courts of federal judges.

In this same city, President Johnson last week convened a Commission on Law

The Battle Of The Beatles

That British minister recently ordained as spiritual leader of the Congregational Church at Burnham on Crouch in Essex County — did you read about him and his Beatle hairdo?

He reasoned that if young Britons liked the Beatles they would like a preacher who looked like a Beatle. So let his hair grow. The young people liked it.

What makes us shudder is his declaration that his older parishioners made no objection. This could mean that the initial shock of mop-headedness has worn off and people are getting used to it.

That could mean, in turn, that a new style in hairdos for man has materialized.

Purely Personal

Want to feel foolish: Decide when a girl's dress is too short, or a boy's hair is too long. All right, now get someone to agree with you.

I am awed by the vigor with which professional football players pursue their trade, remembering how as schoolboy amateurs we found it hard to die for Alma Mater when the old girl had mismatched us with teams we couldn't lick.

No one in Viet Nam ever heard the expression, but when U.S. bombers are blowing them into Kingdom Come wouldn't the Vietnamese be justified in saying, "Oh well, they have decided we'd better be dead than Red"?

A memorable true story brought home from vacation: An elderly steward on the Queen Mary replied to a vacation acquaintance who had told the steward he was an old man and wanted to be taken care of solicitously. "That makes two of us, sir."

I make a point of reading everything that comes my way about the struggle inside the Roman Catholic Church between those who want to adjust the church to the age it is existing in and those who want the age it is living in to adjust itself to their doctrines.

Every time another shooting war breaks where Israel still waits onslaught by irreconcilable Arabs armed with U.S. weapons.

The United States and the Soviet Union are locked in a "cold war," because both sides still need a breathing spell after having finished a hot war.

Britain nervously watches West Germany, fearing the eventuality of German rearmament.

Russia nervously watches its traditional enemies—the 20th century aggressor nations, Germany and Japan.

France, rescued from extinction in World War II, is building another Maginot Line, this one designed by Charles de Gaulle and existing only in his fervid visions of French nationalism.

THE NEW NATIONS of Africa and the new nations of Southeast Asia are imbued with thoughts of how to undercut one another, grab off chunks of unguarded territory, stir up trouble, to aggrandise themselves at the expense of a weaker neighbor, terrorize, threaten, rattle sabres and, if possible, maneuver the United States into economic appeasement.

"Let there be, uh, peace," implores the United States. "Do as we peace-makers say, not as we do."

Reuther-Meany Tie Sinks With Boat

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK — A ferry sank in the Gulf of Gabes off Tunisia last summer, and the political waves churned up by the loss of lives are now billowing over a hostile here, where American labor's high command is meeting.

If that ferry had not sunk there might not now be a low-key, but tough, showdown between the maverick Walter Reuther and the major-domo of the House of Labor, George Meany.

The inescapable conclusion is that a lot of people must have done a lot of things right for a long time because most trials have been reasonably fair.

The exceptions have proved the rule, not demolished it.

The newcomers will help shape labor policy for decades. So though unknown now, they'll have heavy impact on the nation.

THE FERRY in this script went down between Sfax and the Kerkennah Islands. It was owned by a cooperative firm.

On its board of directors was Habib Achour, then general secretary of the General Federation of Tunisian Workers. After the dead and missing were counted, it was discovered that the cooperative organization had not kept its insurance in order.

There was an outcry from the bereaved. Soon the Tunisian government deprived Achour of his parliamentary immunity. On July 3 he was arrested and heaved into the brig at Sfax.

This was just a few days before Meany, Reuther and almost a score of U.S. labor chiefs were scheduled to take their seats at an international labor congress in Amsterdam. Though this gathering of world labor leaders, speaking for over 60 million workers, generally receives little news coverage, it does affect the course of nations.

When Meany and company met there in the first U.S. closed caucus to decide policy, as is traditional at conventions of all kinds the world over, they discussed the Tunisian affair.

THEIR FRIEND Achour would be kept in jail by Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba—whom the American labor chiefs had once helped get out of a French prison.

This imprisonment of their friend Achour was doubly irritating.

Furthermore, he should have been leading the Tunisian labor delegation. But President Bourguiba would not release him. Instead there was another delegation to replace Achour and his loyal colleagues.

The American caucus unanimously decided to fight the seating of the new delegation. That unanimity included Walter Reuther's vote, too.

When the time came for a public vote at the congress, Reuther bolted. He did not advise Meany or others in the delegation. The auto union chief simply took public issue with Meany, who was head of the U.S. labor delegation, and voted against its position.

MEANY'S previous frank talk about the Socialists and cookie-pushers amongst the foreign labor leaders had not exactly made him the most popular man there before the sessions opened. Thus, he lost face in the global congress as the famed Reuther took open issue.

It was as though President Johnson had cast a bloc vote in the United Nations on some issue and Hubert Humphrey had arisen to tally against him.

The newcomers will help shape labor policy for decades. So though unknown now, they'll have heavy impact on the nation.

THEY HAD NOT exactly been Damon and Pythias. But there had been unity. The ferry boat saga smashed that—permanently, according to insiders. The real issue, of course, had been the breaking of caucus discipline and the egg-on-the-face position of the rest of the delegation.

Reuther and Meany have met since. They ran into each other at a White House Presidential stag dinner and in labor's national headquarters. Nobody hit anybody. There were pleasantries.

But behind the closed doors of labor's high command sessions here the pleasantries will be gone, as vital policies affecting the movement and the nation are hammered out.

I was not a witness to the accident, but our four children were. They were on the bus. Our bus driver not only stopped, he had his lights on, the windshield wipers and defoggers running and he opened the door to listen (a standard procedure he uses when it is so foggy you do not have good visibility).

I am sure I am speaking for 100 per cent of the parents whose children were on the bus when I say I would sooner trust my children with our bus driver when the fog is heavy than with myself.

The suggested speed limit on this curve is 40 miles per hour under normal conditions. Have you asked yourself, Mrs. Wright, how fast a car must be traveling to pick a bus off the road. Yes, the left side of the bus was completely off the road; the hood of the car under the back wheel. Had it not been for our quick-thinking, level-headed bus driver, there could have been a greater tragedy and more than bruises and bumps for the children. Had not the bus been unloaded in the proper manner, it could have tipped over. It is one of God's miracles that it did not.

We parents at No. 16 school and our Southern Local school board have been trying for years to get some type of flasher lights not only at this curve where two buses must make left-hand turns but also at our school road. We even offered to pay for them, but since our building is not located on the state highway, the highway department says we cannot have one installed. Ridiculous, isn't it?

Now, I would like to add a comment about the public's responsibility. There is a speed limit at Westgate and any other school. The last two mornings as I have driven past Westgate at 20 miles per hour, I was passed by several other drivers.

Certainly, if our children are to be protected, we the drivers, must be aware that the school buses must travel these roads usually from 7 to 8:30 a.m. and from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. It is our responsibility to use extra caution, not only when visibility is good, but even when it is not.

But now that war has broken out between India and Pakistan and the military aid program is suspended, there is nothing in the rule book or in past precedents which says the United States cannot promise additional economic aid to both contestants once they agree to a cease-fire.

For an even stronger line of defense against Communist imperialism could thereby be erected in Asia by the democracies of the free world.

Dollar Diplomacy

Economic Dilemma Stirs Latest Crisis

It is an oversimplification to characterize as a failure the mission of U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations, in which he tried unsuccessfully to get India and Pakistan to agree at once to a cease-fire. It would have been a miracle if mere conferences with David Lawrence the heads of the two states had instantly brought an end to hostilities. Anyone who expected this could not have known the deep-seated feeling and determination behind both sides in going to war in the first place.

Main purpose of the trip was to get at the background of the dispute, so that at the proper time the information could be laid before either the Security Council or the General Assembly of the U.N.

What India and Pakistan want primarily is an airing of all the issues in dispute.

Both countries are faced with problems arising out of big increases in their population. It is basically an economic dilemma.

That's why the president of Pakistan shrewdly has called for mediation by the President of the United States, rather than by the United Nations.

India is not averse to the idea.

If the controversy is to be solved at all, there must be financial aid to each side and some kind of equitable interest in Kashmir must be recognized for both parties.

The United States has been giving help to both India and Pakistan — and yet has been fully aware that the two countries might some day find themselves at war with each other. It has insisted that any military weapons obtained by either nation from the United States were not to be used against the other.

The United States has been giving help to both India and Pakistan — and yet has been fully aware that the two countries might some day find themselves at war with each other. It has insisted that any military weapons obtained by either nation from the United States were not to be used against the other.

The United States, therefore, rather than the United Nations, has a big opportunity to bring peace and increase its prestige throughout Asia.

"Foreign aid," as such, has often been criticized as meaningless and wasteful, but it could

Who Is Trying To Kick Up A Storm

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Tropical storm Carol, third of the season, boiled up far out in the Atlantic Ocean today but forecasters say the chances are the storm will never reach the United States.

"When a storm forms this far east the chances are good it will not reach the United States," said forecaster Gilbert Clark. "I won't say it isn't possible but it's less likely than if it had formed further to the west."

Tropical storm Carol was about 1,550 miles east of San Juan, P.R., and about 2,550 miles east-southeast of Miami early today, moving west-northwest at 14 miles an hour.

Highest winds were estimated at 55 m.p.h. near the center, with gales whipping 150 miles to the north and 75 miles to the south.

Ships in the expected path of the storm were advised to exercise caution but no land areas are threatened for the next 24 to 48 hours.

WILBUR Manfull, 62, of Mechanicsburg and his wife were treated at Salem City Hospital Saturday after their 1962 sedan collided with a truck on Route 30 about two miles west of Lisbon.

Officers said Manfull was headed east and attempted to make a left turn in the path of the truck driven by Frank Woodruff, 38, of Cannonsburg R.D. Manfull, cited for making an improper turn, suffered a cut of the chin and hand injury, and his wife, Mary, received cuts of the head.

Charles White, 34, of Wellsville R.D. 1 was cited for driving left of center and no driver's license after his car veered off Township Rd. 916, two miles north of Route 267 Saturday and struck a bridge abutment.

John Brownfield, 18, of Lisbon R.D. escaped injury when his car and one driven by Howard Johnson, 50, of Portville, Pa., collided on Route 30 near the intersection with Route 172 Saturday.

Officers said Brownfield's car went left of center and struck Johnson's, causing moderate damage to both vehicles. Brownfield was charged with driving left of center.

A 1957 sedan driven by John T. Burson, 21, of Rogers was destroyed by fire when a backfire through the carburetor ignited the motor while he was driving on County Rd. 432 about five miles west of Route 170. He was unhurt.

The main effect of the bill would be to end the 41-year-old system of basing immigration on the nationality of applicants. Instead, those countries outside the Western Hemisphere, which are now assigned individual quotas, would be treated equally under a total quota of 170,000.

In view of the collapse of administration efforts to block a Western Hemisphere ceiling, the House is expected to accept the Senate version when conferees meet to work out a mutually acceptable bill.

The Senate's foreign aid bill would give the administration $92 million less than the House appropriated for foreign aid, a marked departure from recent years when the Senate was counted on to restore deeper cuts made by the House.

Backed up on the House calendar are three bills that threaten difficulties for the leadership—one increasing the minimum wage to $1.75 an hour and greatly increasing its coverage, one granting home rule to the District of Columbia, and one granting big pay raises to federal workers—including members of Congress. Still in committee is the highway beautification bill on which the administration is demanding acceptable changes.

Despite the sweeping nature of the proposed changes in immigration policy, little trouble is anticipated in getting Senate approval.

The main controversy—whether to impose an immigration ceiling on the Western Hemisphere—was fought out in committee. A ceiling of 120,000 was written into the bill and itself of its nonbanking properties.

Hurt in her car were Daniel Allen Huff, 7, Tammy Rae Huff, 5, and Anna Lee Huff, 3, all of whom received minor injuries, the patrol said. Rhodes was charged with driving left of center.

Kay Janice Stanley, 26, of Salem was cited after her car collided with a truck driven by Richard J. Gostey, 22, of Leetonia R.D. 1 on Route 344 Saturday.

Officers said she was headed west and lost control on a curve, her car hitting the approaching truck and causing heavy damage. She suffered bruises of the arm and knee while the trucker received a cut scalp. The woman was arrested for driving left of center.

John R. Shaw, 58, of 3rd Ave., LaCroft, escaped injury when his car and another collided on Route 170 at Calcutta Saturday night.

Dorothy Hamilton, 43, of Glenmoor escaped injury when her car was sideswiped by a tanker truck, then hit guardrails along Route 7 Saturday.

The patrol said the truck driven by Lloyd Barnes, 54, of Gulfport, Miss., passed her car but cut back in his lane too quickly, hitting the front of her 1959 coach.

Her auto swerved into guardrails. Barnes was charged with improper passing.

In view of the collapse of administration efforts to block a Western Hemisphere ceiling, the House is expected to accept the Senate version when conferees meet to work out a mutually acceptable bill.

The Senate's foreign aid bill would give the administration $92 million less than the House appropriated for foreign aid, a marked departure from recent years when the Senate was counted on to restore deeper cuts made by the House.

Backed up on the House calendar are three bills that threaten difficulties for the leadership—one increasing the minimum wage to $1.75 an hour and greatly increasing its coverage, one granting home rule to the District of Columbia, and one granting big pay raises to federal workers—including members of Congress. Still in committee is the highway beautification bill on which the administration is demanding acceptable changes.

Despite the sweeping nature of the proposed changes in immigration policy, little trouble is anticipated in getting Senate approval.

The main controversy—whether to impose an immigration ceiling on the Western Hemisphere—was fought out in committee. A ceiling of 120,000 was written into the bill and itself of its nonbanking properties.

Hurt in her car were Daniel Allen Huff, 7, Tammy Rae Huff, 5, and Anna Lee Huff, 3, all of whom received minor injuries, the patrol said. Rhodes was charged with driving left of center.

Kay Janice Stanley, 26, of Salem was cited after her car collided with a truck driven by Richard J. Gostey, 22, of Leetonia R.D. 1 on Route 344 Saturday.

Officers said she was headed west and lost control on a curve, her car hitting the approaching truck and causing heavy damage. She suffered bruises of the arm and knee while the trucker received a cut scalp. The woman was arrested for driving left of center.

John R. Shaw, 58, of 3rd Ave., LaCroft, escaped injury when his car and another collided on Route 170 at Calcutta Saturday night.

Dorothy Hamilton, 43, of Glenmoor escaped injury when her car was sideswiped by a tanker truck, then hit guardrails along Route 7 Saturday.

The patrol said the truck driven by Lloyd Barnes, 54, of Gulfport, Miss., passed her car but cut back in his lane too quickly, hitting the front of her 1959 coach.

Her auto swerved into guardrails. Barnes was charged with improper passing.

WILBUR Manfull, 62, of Mechanicsburg and his wife were treated at Salem City Hospital Saturday after their 1962 sedan collided with a truck on Route 30 about two miles west of Lisbon.

Officers said Manfull was headed east and attempted to make a left turn in the path of the truck driven by Frank Woodruff, 38, of Cannonsburg R.D. Manfull, cited for making an improper turn, suffered a cut of the chin and hand injury, and his wife, Mary, received cuts of the head.

Charles White, 34, of Wellsville R.D. 1 was cited for driving left of center and no driver's license after his car veered off Township Rd. 916, two miles north of Route 267 Saturday and struck a bridge abutment.

John Brownfield, 18, of Lisbon R.D. escaped injury when his car and one driven by Howard Johnson, 50, of Portville, Pa., collided on Route 30 near the intersection with Route 172 Saturday.

Officers said Brownfield's car went left of center and struck Johnson's, causing moderate damage to both vehicles. Brownfield was charged with driving left of center.

A 1957 sedan driven by John T. Burson, 21, of Rogers was destroyed by fire when a backfire through the carburetor ignited the motor while he was driving on County Rd. 432 about five miles west of Route 170. He was unhurt.

The main effect of the bill would be to end the 41-year-old system of basing immigration on the nationality of applicants. Instead, those countries outside the Western Hemisphere, which are now assigned individual quotas, would be treated equally under a total quota of 170,000.

2 Bishops Clash Over 'Title' For New Deaconess

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two bishops of the Episcopal Church have clashed over the investiture ceremony of Deaconess Phyllis Edwards and whether or not she is entitled to be called "the reverend" as a minister.

At Peoria, Ill., Sunday, the Rt. Rev. Francis W. Lickfield, president of the American Church Union of the Episcopal Church, took California Bishop James A. Pike to task for recognizing a woman as minister.

During services at St. Paul's church, Lickfield said of the 48-year-old woman, "She is not a clergyman."

He continued: "An Episcopal deaconess is not an episcopal clergyman. She is what she has always been, a Christian woman who ministers in an ancient order for women, the Order of Deaconesses."

Lickfield said Mrs. Edwards "has not been ordained to the sacred ministry and stands in no different position now than formerly."

Bishop Pike replied at Concord, Calif., that Mrs. Edwards is a minister and is entitled to be addressed, "the reverend."

He said the designation was made possible by a resolution adopted by the House of Bishops conference this month at Glacier Park.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Smell Of Gold In The Air

HOLLYWOOD

HE BEGINS to dream of Palm Springs homes with indoor swimming pools and telling everybody to go to hell, owning his own studio maybe, or divorcing his wife for the girl he really loves.

"After all," he muses to himself in heady reverie, "if Lorne Greene and that other big oaf can get $10,000 a week from 'Bonanza' now, what's to prevent the same happening to me?" And didn't Milburn (Doc) Stone and Amanda (Kitty) Blake sell their residual equity to CBS for a million dollars?"

It is this burning desire for gold which inspires actors to sign for weekly TV series, and when they turn down a series it's rarely for artistic reasons as they usually try to make you believe, but only because it doesn't look like a winner to them.

Even in "Treasure of Sierra Madre" they didn't go just anywhere, but to a place that looked promising.

OF THE 100 or more leading actors who've been grubstaked to new series this season, no more than a handful will be striking it rich — a fact which will give vent to a whole new round of emotions among those playing the game.

The ones who miss will bitterly blame the network for the time spot they were put in, or the director who wouldn't let them rewrite those lousy scripts or maybe the costar who hogged all the action and rubbed the viewers the wrong way.

Even the lucky ones run the risk of winding up with their gold being blown by the four winds, as happened in "Treasure of the Sierra Madre." With an actor it is sometimes bad investments, a too-expensive divorce settlement or trying to live like the Shah of Iran.

When someone first referred to TV as an industry, it was no idle groping for a word on his part.

Molly, Young At 81, To Head For The Hills And Squirrels

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — Molly Rice waits impatiently for this time of year so she can hike alone in her native southeastern Kentucky mountains and "bag me a few squirrels."

Molly, or Jack, as her family always called her, is wiry and leathery-faced with sparkling eyes that belie her 81 years.

"I used to win some hard shooting contests from men," she recalls, "and I guess I still could although my eyes aren't as good as they used to be."

The second oldest child in her family, Molly found farm work took her time in childhood with little chance to play dolls or hand.

"I plowed many a furrow then and still do," she said, pointing proudly to her one-acre garden of beans, corn and potatoes at her home in nearby Cumberland.

Molly tagged after her father and cousins on nighttime raccoon hunts through the mountains when she was a child. More than once she fell asleep near a campfire while the men sat listening for their dogs.

"When I was 10, I remember daddy got a new Winchester lever gun and I wanted nothing more in this world than to fire that gun," she said.

"It wasn't long before I finally did and I started hunting, lots of times switching the gun and leaving early in the morning only to get a whipping when I got home."

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Watch That Second Helping!

One homemaker, who invariably took second helpings, tried this eye-opener. She took both helpings on the plate at the same time, just to see how much food she was eating at dinner. "It was plain second helpings were crowding me into size 20," she wrote.

It isn't the Ida Jean Kain first helping of food that puts the calories over the top; it's second helpings. One reader wants your dietitian to be more specific regarding first helpings. "I think when reducers report their success they should tell just how much of every good they eat at a meal. Otherwise, how can we know?"

FAIR ENOUGH. Since protein is the backbone of the menu, we will start with the protein foods. The chief protein foods are meat, fish and chicken, eggs, milk, skim milk, cheese and cottage cheese.

A small serving of meat, fish or poultry is 3½ ounces, which is the standard 100 gram portion. I like to suggest a 4 ounce serving, cooked weight, edible portion. A medium-large serving is a 6-ounce portion, cooked weight.

Recall the nursery rhyme of Jack Sprat who could eat no fat and his wife who could eat no lean. The calorie count of lean versus lean - and - fat shows why she was fat and he was lean.

Beef: The average calorie count for 3½ ounces of lean beef is 220. The same size portion of lean-and-fat furnishes 385 calories. Lamb: The 3½-ounce portion of lean furnishes 200 calories; the same portion of lean-and-fat yields 300 calories. Pork: The 3½-ounce portion of lean furnishes 220 calories; the same size portion of lean-and-fat furnishes 300 calories.

Fish: A 6-ounce portion raw weight yields close to 5 ounces cooked weight, baked or broiled. The lean fish, such as cod, flounder, haddock and halibut, furnish approximately 150 calories for a 5-ounce portion. Medium fat fish — bass, bluefish, mackerel, ocean perch, swordfish and whitefish — furnish approximately 195 calories per 5-ounce serving. Since fish is comparatively low in calories, a 6- or 7-ounce portion, cooked weight, is not too large a serving.

OTHER protein foods: One egg, 80 calories; 1 ounce cheese, 105 to 110 calories; ½ cup cottage cheese, 110 calories; whole milk, 1 cup, 165 calories; skim milk and buttermilk, 85 calories.

The standard serving size for vegetables, fruits and fruit juices is a ½ cup portion. On low calorie vegetables, have a ¾ cup serving.

Bread allowance is usually 2 to 3 slices a day. An average slice is 60 calories, thin slice 45 calories. A serving of cereal is ¾ to 1 cup and furnishes approximately 100 calories; it can be substituted for 2 slices of bread.

The best part of cutting portions down to proper size is that in a week or two, three at the most, you'll feel satisfied with the smaller serving.

The president announced that the Beaver County Council of PTA's will hold its spring conference in April in Midland with the three Midland units as the host organizations.

Ohio Resident Killed
In Tennessee Crash

HUMBOLDT, Tenn. (AP) — A 45-year-old Ohio woman was injured fatally Sunday in an auto accident while on a visit here.

Mrs. Louise P. Mayfield of Stow died in a hospital here a few hours after the collision at a Humboldt intersection.

"They wouldn't talk about what was said," Egan said.

"But it was evident the mother was crying. I couldn't help get the impression they've seen a lot of trouble before."

Egan said he expects Superior or Court Judge Laurence T. Wren to hold a second juvenile hearing for Dixie. Earlier she had been ordered to stand trial as an adult in the slaying of Halvor Johnson, 28, and Robert Willis, 23, both of Newport, N.H.

Her boyfriend from Londonerry, Ohio, 23-year-old Donald Boggs, also is charged with the slayings.

Drug May Have Aided Birth Of Quadruplets

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ten months ago Alice Pigge took a fertility drug — not to become pregnant but to cure a woman's disorder.

Today she has quadruplets. Her first children, two boys and two girls, were born a month prematurely Sunday at Los Angeles County General Hospital.

The babies, weighing a total of nine pounds and listed in critical condition, were placed in incubators.

Mrs. Pigge, 5 feet 2 and of average build, was reported in fair condition but cheerful — and insistent on having her hair combed before interviewers dropped in. She is a Mississippi-born Negro resident of Los Angeles.

Dr. Milton Smale, the hospital's chief resident physician in obstetrics, said that last November Mrs. Pigge had taken the drug clomiphene citrate on the advice of her attending physician, Dr. Richard Taw, who operates the hospital's bleeding clinic. The medication corrected her irregularity.

In January she became pregnant.

"The drug may have caused the multiple births, as it has done in other cases," Dr. Smale said. "The possibility that it did not is in the fact that she took the drug in November but did not become pregnant until January."

He said the medication is used in treating irregularity but is best known as a treatment for infertility. "It is primarily a drug used to cause ovulation," he said.

A Swedish woman who bore quadruplets last July had received the same hormone, Dr. Smale said, and a New Zealand woman who had quintuplets had received the drug.

Midland Society

N. A. Nuzzo NE 4-2315

Various fund-raising projects were discussed at a meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church Thursday night in the church social rooms. Mrs. Arnold Robbins, president, conducted business.

An approval vote doesn't mean the religious liberty declaration is finished and decreed. Instead, the text becomes frozen from any major changes while a subcommittee of the Vatican's Christian Unity Secretariat looks over suggested amendments made in council speeches or in writing.

No suggestion that runs counter to the spirit and basic principles of the declaration can be accepted, however, under council rules. Later in this fourth and final council session, the declaration will go back to the bishops for chapter-by-chapter voting and a final over-all vote before Pope Paul VI and the entire assembly can make their decree.

Effective In 1968

4-Year Term Set In Mayors' Jobs

The mayors of all 13 Columbian County cities and villages will begin serving four-year terms on Jan. 1, 1968, under a change in Ohio law approved at the last sessions of the state legislature.

All mayors now serve two-year terms. Mayors will be named at the Nov. 2 general election for the last of the two-year terms. They will take office on Jan. 1, 1966, for terms that will run out on Dec. 31, 1967.

The new law becomes effective on Jan. 1, 1967, providing that all mayors of Ohio cities and villages named at the next succeeding general election will serve for four years.

THE CHANGE was pointed out today by Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the County Election Board, citing certified copies of the new laws furnished to him by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus.

The change affects county's four cities, three villages over 2,000 population and six so-called "smaller villages" those with populations under 2,000.

The cities and the villages over 2,000 population nominate slates in primaries in May and hold general elections in November. The smaller villages skip the primaries, electing officials on non-partisan ballots that do not list party affiliation.

The cities are East Liverpool, Wellsville, East Palestine and Salem. The large villages are Columbian, Leetonia and Lisbon. The small villages are Hanoverton, Rogers, New Waterford, Summitville, Washingtonville and Salineville.

OTHER NEW laws provide for four-year terms for city solicitors, village clerks and clerk-treasurers and members of village Boards of Trustees.

In the case of all except the Boards of Trustees, the law provides that the four-year terms also will begin on Jan. 1, 1968. The changeover in the Boards of Trustees will begin in 1967, when one member will be elected for a two-year term and the other two will be chosen for four-year terms. In 1969, one member will be elected for a four-year term, putting all the posts on the same footing from the standpoint of tenure. After 1969, all the terms will be for four years.

The new laws continue a trend that began a few years ago, when the legislature decreed four-year terms for members of village councils.

East Liverpool already has two officials whose tenures are longer than two years. The city auditor serves for four years and the municipal judge's term runs six years. However, the law makes no change in the length of the terms of councilmen and the city treasurer.

THE SECRETARY of state cited several other changes in election laws in the data furnished O'Hanlon.

One which takes effect on next Nov. 11 will affect printing of ballots for all elections, starting in 1966.

It requires that a heavy black line will be printed on the back of the ballot, directly at the rear of the rectangular spaces in which voters mark their choices for various offices.

The effect is to make it impossible for a precinct worker handling a folded ballot to be able to determine how the ticket was marked. As the elector leaves a voting booth, he hands his folded ballot to a precinct worker. Apparently there was a suspicion that precinct workers sometimes could discern the voters' "X" marks, even though a folded ballot, O'Hanlon said.

Another change will be in effect in time for the general election on Nov. 2. It modifies the restrictions on permissible aid for a blind person in marking his ballot.

At present, a person with an obvious physical impairment may have assistance in marking a ballot from two election judges of opposite politics or a near relative.

The stipulation remains except in the case of a blind person, who now may be accompanied and aided in the voting booth by any person of his choice, removing the requirement that the aid must be furnished by a "near relative."

ANOTHER change in the law concerns petitions of persons who seek to run for Ohio-at-large and district posts as delegates and alternates to the national conventions of the Republican and Democratic parties, at which Presidential candidates are nominated. It becomes effective next Oct. 13, but will have no real effect until 1967, the next presidential year.

The law provides that candidates for both Ohio-at-large and district delegates and alternates may file so-called "group" petitions for ballot places and that the petitions need not contain any more signatures than are required on single candidates petition.

However, the group petitions must be filed in behalf of persons representing the entire delegation to be elected in the state or district and they must all be pledged to the same first and second choices for the presidential nomination.

O'Hanlon also received official notice that his title will be changed to "director of elections," rather than clerk, under a law that takes effect Nov. 1. In addition, Mrs. Willis Conner, now deputy clerk, will be known as "deputy director of elections."

O'Hanlon also pointed out that a recent reapportionment boosts the 18th Congressional District to seven counties, rather than the former five. The first effect of the change will be felt in 1966, the next time U.S. Rep. Wayne L. Hayes of Brushing is the incumbent.

The realigned district will be comprised of Columbian, Belmont, Harrison and Jefferson—all retained in the change—plus Noble, Tuscarawas and Monroe.

Carroll County was dropped from the 18th District and became part of the 16th District, which also includes Stark County and part of Mahoning.

Ohio Man Found Nude With Gunshot Wounds

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—A Cincinnati man was reported in fair condition at Middletown Hospital after being found nude with gunshot wounds in his legs along I-75 near Monroe Saturday night.

Winston Bell, 34, told the Highway Patrol he was abducted on a city street in Cincinnati by a man and woman he did not know in what apparently was a case of mistaken identity.

He said the couple drove him to near a rest area along I-75 where he was forced to strip. He said the man clubbed him with a gun, then fired two shots when Bell attempted to run.

Bell said the couple kept calling him by another name.

Bell said he finally hid in weeds and later made his way to the highway where he tried for more than an hour to flag down motorists. A truck driver finally called the patrol.

Trial Delayed For Motorist

A hearing for a Maplewood man on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol was continued today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Judge Chertoff granted the request of Burley Fred Putnam, 300 Carolina Ave., to allow the defendant time to obtain counsel. Putnam's bond of $500 was continued. The hearing is set at 9 a.m.

Putnam was arrested at 5:55 p.m. Saturday on St. Clair Ave. by Patrolman Paul Blevins, assisted by Patrolman L. E. Richard.

Three area motorists drew fines for other traffic violations. Nicholas M. Selepac, 18, of 533 Penn Ave., Midland, was fined $25 and costs on a charge of failing to keep his vehicle on the right side of the roadway. He was cited Sept. 4 by the State Highway Patrol on County Rd. 424.

Clark B. Kevan, 57, of 410 Azalea Ave., and Jeffrey Reed, 18, of 1735 Lincoln Ave., Wellsville, drew fines of $15 and costs each on speeding charges filed by the patrol.

Kevan was cited Thursday night on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd. for traveling 65 in a 50-mile zone. He pleaded "no contest."

Reed, who pleaded guilty, was cited by the patrol Sept. 6 on the same highway for doing 70 in a 50-mile zone.

Progress Seen In Bid To Settle Paper's Walkout

NEW YORK (AP)—Representatives of the American Newspaper Guild and the New York Times resume negotiations today after making the first reported progress in settling the five-day strike shutdown.

Both sides agreed as a session broke up after midnight that they had moved slightly closer to agreement on a pension plan, one of four major issues in the walkout.

The negotiators planned to meet at noon for further study of a guild proposal and Times' counter proposal on the pension issue.

The 2,200 editorial, business and maintenance guild members struck the Times Thursday morning. Newspapers belonging to the Publishers Association of New York City suspended publication in support of the Times.

The New York Post, which is not a member of the association, has continued to publish.

Besides pensions and full severance pay on retirement, other issues in the strike are job protection against automation and mergers, union job jurisdiction and union shop for the guild. The latter would require all employees under its jurisdiction to join the union.

Son Of Ex-City Couple Dies In Plane Mishap

John A. McNicol, 44, of Miami, son of former city residents, was a member of the crew of the Pan American World Airways plane which crashed in the British West Indies Friday, killing all 30 aboard.

Mr. McNicol was co-pilot of the plane which was en route from Martinique to Antigua.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John A. McNicol of Clarksburg and East Liverpool, and has a number of cousins in this area, including Miss Mary McNicol and Miss Dorothy McDaniel of Chester, and an aunt, Mrs. Neil McNicol of New East Liverpool.

He was married and had two daughters and three sons.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a plastic surgeon who has been a faithful reader of your column for a long time. I've been tempted to write to you concerning matters that fall within my professional province. Your advice to the flat-chested woman who wanted to have her inadequate bosom built up by surgery provided the final stimulus.

You should understand, Ann Landers, that if a woman's image is a poor one the woman may become withdrawn and introverted. Some women don't mind being flat-chested but others become depressed and serious personality problems result.

You say, "Why subject yourself to surgery when a $2 purchase in a lingerie store can produce the desired results?"

Have you ever seen one of those $2 purchases pop out of a bathing suit and float on top of the pool? Furthermore, a $2 purchase will not permit a woman to wear a low-cut evening gown. The "purchases" slip and slide and sometimes they fall out.

Plastic surgeons now use jelly-like implants to build up bosoms. This produces a natural appearance and the operation is relatively simple. The degree of success is extremely high and the women love it.

Why don't you consult with specialists and learn the wonders of plastic surgery? Yours truly, — TAMPA PLASTIC SURGEON.

Dear Surgeon: If you have been reading my column for years you should know I'm well aware of the wonders of plastic surgery and that I've made millions of others aware of it, too.

In the very column you attack I wrote: "Once upon a time people had to play the hand nature dealt them because they had no choice. Today, surgeons can uncross eyes, remove pox and scars, reshape noses, rebuild underslung jaws and make people feel better about themselves. I'm all for it."

My position on surgery to build up bosoms is unchanged. The plastic surgeons with whom I consult tell me the silicone implants (you call them jelly-like) have been used successfully in a great many cases. However, in some patients, the implants have produced breast tumors. I would not advise any reader, no matter how depressed over a flat chest, to take such a foolish chance.

P.S.: The $2 falsies do not slip or fall out when sewn into a bathing suit or evening gown. And the new padded bras are better than ever.

No. 2 Wife

Dear Ann: I married a divorced man. I knew life would not be a bowl of cherries, but I never expected to choke on so many pits.

The problem is Art's former wife, Ellen is determined to be part of his family and I'm sorry to say she is succeeding.

Whenever we go to my mother-in-law's apartment Ellen is there. She also has become a close friend of Art's sister and gets herself invited to every family affair. The shrewd little she-devil even has managed to become friendly with my own sister.

Neither Art nor I is comfortable in Ellen's presence. She is referring to incidents from the past. Sometimes I get the feeling she has not yet accepted the fact that she and Art are no longer married.

Is it fair for Art's family to continue to be friendly to Ellen now that she is divorced? Should I ask Art to order them to stop including her? — NUMBER TWO.

Dear Two: Art has no right to determine for his family either their friends or acquaintances. He can, however, ask them not to include you and Art when they have invited Ellen. And I suggest you do just that.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: To avoid hand towels for my children, I place aluminum foil on top of the broiler rack (cover completely), and punch holes in it with a fork.

When broiling meat, the grease drains, and I have no smoke problem.

Also, another sheet of foil can be placed in the broiler pan. Covering rack and pan makes cleaning much easier.

MRS. W. E. CLAWSON.

Gals, this hint does work wonderfully. I hope you read it carefully, and noted that Mrs. Clawson said, "Punch holes in the foil with a fork."

This is very important as the grease must be able to drain off, or it might catch on fire. That's what the holes in your broiler pan are for!

My broiler doesn't have a "rack" as such, but has a round gadget which has perforations in it at intervals. After I cover it with foil, I just punch a hole in the foil at each one of the perforations.

HELOISE.

More Suggestions

DEAR HELOISE: I make school bags from dark-colored

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a hint which other large families (there are seven of us) might like to use:

Just before we sit down to a meal, Mom fixes a dishpan of hot, sudsy water, and a deep pan of water for silverware.

When we finish eating, we take our own dishes and silverware to the kitchen, scrape and rinse the dishes, put the silverware in the pan, and the dishes in the dishpan of hot water.

By the time the table is completely cleared, it is so easy to give the dishes and silverware another sudsing and good rinsing.

Mom really appreciates it.

JUDY COLLINS.

DEAR HELOISE: For ease in watering your small potted plants:

Take a prescription bottle

(the small, plastic kind that druggists use for pills these days), beat the blade of an old paring knife on the burner of your stove, and slice off the closed end of the bottle.

Insert this cylinder upright, about one-fourth inch deep, into the soil of your potted plant, and pour the water into the cylinder.

You will have no more slopped-over planter pots.

EDITH STOCKSTILL.

DEAR HELOISE: I use old linen tablecloths as ironing board covers.

They give an incomparable finish to the ironed clothing, and last a long time... better than anything one can buy.

HILDA U.

DEAR HELOISE: When I have leftover paint, and plan to use it again, I store it upside down in the can (after securing the lid tightly, of course).

The paint seals the lid from inside, and prevents drying. It also makes it easier to mix again for reuse, as there is no sediment in the bottom that must be scraped out with a stick.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Special School Day Has Disadvantages

I once heard a Ph. D. professor read a paper on the expression of imagination among kindergarten children. Her conclusion was that boys there reveal more imagination than girls. They showed it, she said, in their fun with guns at playing cops and robbers and at Dr. Gary Myers being cowboys. I inferred that the children of the kindergarten studied were allowed to play there with guns. I kept wondering what value such expression of imagination was and if it indicated imagination in hundreds of other more desirable situations.

A few months ago the following letter came from a city in west Texas:

"THE SECOND practice that I question is that of teachers smoking in front of students. They do not smoke during class, but as soon as the day ends, and before all students have gone, some of the teachers begin to smoke. I feel there is a time and a place for this practice and that it is definitely out of place in the classroom. Will you please comment?"

"Your daily column is my Bible. I request that every parent read it regularly. I wish that I had had this advice when my children were little. How it would have helped when I practiced the many things that you advocate today and most people were against me. The results show that the ideas were good. I have three fine teenagers that would be a joy to any family."

My reply in part:

Thank you for your letter. I quite agree with you this is atrocious to have children bring guns with them to school and play "cowboy" there. I just can't quite imagine any teacher allowing it.

Dr. Marvin Kinsey will discuss preventive dentistry and Mrs. Basil Mangano mental health.

George Vukas of Newell is president.

NOR CAN I quite understand why teachers would want to smoke in the classroom in the presence of their children. I think there is a certain degree of dignity and finesse that should be observed in the classroom. However, I don't believe the smoking problem you refer to is as serious as the cowboy problem.

My bulletins, "Beginnings of Imagination" and "Stimulate Your Child's Imagination," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Marshall Field's Services Will Be Conducted Tuesday

CHICAGO (AP)—The sudden death of Marshall Field, 49, publisher and philanthropist, continued to evoke expressions of sorrow today as the family prepared for Tuesday's funeral.

The publisher and editor of the Chicago Sun-Times and the Chicago Daily News, died in his sleep Saturday evening of a heart attack at his Chicago home.

The funeral will be at 3 p.m. Tuesday in the Fourth Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Graceland Cemetery.

President Johnson sent a telegram Sunday to Field's widow, Julia Lynne Templeton Field, whom he married in 1964. It read in part:

"Marshall Field was in the front rank of those Americans whose life has been spent in keeping this nation informed. His charity and his purpose will not be forgotten by those who felt the influence of his good works."

Expressions of sympathy included those from Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press, and Paul Miller, president of the AP and Gannett Newspapers.

Gallagher said Field's death is a great loss to journalism.

Wheeling Police Arrest Figure In Prayer Decision

WHEELING (AP) — "Tired of running," William J. Murray said as he sat in jail here today awaiting the arrival of officials to return him to Baltimore, Md., to face a year-old charge.

The officers who arrested Murray said they discovered he was in the city when he attempted to obtain money from a friend in Baltimore. He was being held in lieu of $2,500 bond. Police said they expected him to waive extradition.

The youth was arrested here Sunday by local police acting on a tip from Baltimore authorities. Arresting officers, who picked up Murray in a cheap hotel, said he told them he was "tired of running" and wanted to give himself up at Baltimore.

Both the youth and his mother, Mrs. Madelyn Murray, have been wanted in Baltimore since June 1964 on charges they assaulted police officers. The officers were attempting to serve a court injunction forbidding the youth to see a girl whose family objected to his religious views.

The Murays fled to Hawaii before coming to trial. They left Hawaii recently after that state's highest court upheld their extradition back to Maryland. Mrs. Murray was still at large Sunday, her whereabouts unknown.

John Bever Honored

Historians Mark Mill, Bridge Site

The vision and generosity of a Tri-State Area Pioneer were honored Sunday afternoon at the dedication of a historical marker commemorating the founding of the first paper mill and the first covered bridge in Ohio and the Northwest Territory.

About 70 attended the ceremony conducted at the site of the Ohio Historical Marker along the Smiths Ferry - Calcutta Rd. about seven-tenths of a mile north of Route 68.

Atty. William H. Vodrey Jr., of East Liverpool, president of the Ohio Historical Society, was speaker at the event.

He paid tribute to the industry and philanthropy of John Bever of Georgetown, partner in both the paper mill built in 1807 and the toll bridge constructed in 1809.

The Ohio Paper Mill was erected by Bever, Jacob Bowman of Brownsville, Pa., and John Coulter of Brooke County, Va., to answer the critical need for paper in the new state and territory.

THE NEAREST paper mills of the time were at Brownsville and in Kentucky, and there was demand for the material for documents, letters, records and other papers, Vodrey explained.

There is a tale, he said, handed down from those years of children employed in the paper mill in the mornings, helping to produce the materials for schoolbooks made in Pittsburgh and sent to schools here which the youngsters attended in the afternoons.

"This was quite like asking a child to cut the switch for which he was to be punished," the speaker commented with a smile.

Vodrey said the paper mill constructed at Hamilton in 1810 was long thought to be the first in Ohio — and there was a marker so erected there at one time — but research has proven the local mill to be the first.

Tolls for the span over Little Beaver Creek were two cents for a footman, four cents for a horse, 6½ cents for horse and rider and 12 cents for a wagon drawn by two horses.

THE BRIDGE was authorized by the Ohio Legislature and built by Bever and Thomas Moore.

Bever was among our first philanthropists, Vodrey said, because he turned the bridge over to Columbiana County as a gift before his death.

The speaker spoke of Bever's activities as a merchant, surveyor and landholder, describing him as one of the largest property-owners of the area.

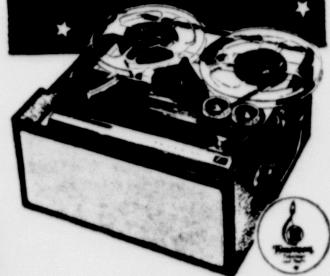

At his death in 1836, he left an estate valued at $74,000, a large sum in those times and the equivalent of $7 million today.

In his interest in religion and education, he was far ahead of his time, Vodrey said, describing Bever's bequest of land for Nevile Institute and a fund for the education of young people which today exceeds $75,000.

Bever also helped establish St. John's Parish in the Beaver Creek area, later to be superseded by St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Fight Goes On Against Fires

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — After days of battling forest and brush fires which have blackened 207,000 acres of Northern California, weary fire fighters were optimistic today as one of two major fires remaining was partially contained.

Fire crews were able to contain the more than 16,000-acre Chiles Valley fire on its north and west sides. Its south and west flanks were reported still out of control.

The fire, in Napa County about 40 miles northeast of San Francisco, burned around summer homes near Atlas Creek but did not damage the structures which were watered down by State Division of Forestry pumper trucks.

In Sonoma County about 45 miles north of San Francisco, a hot fire was reported marching on scattered summer homes near Austin Creek, west of the mountain settlement of Cazadero, a spokesman said. That fire had already laid waste 6,000 acres of grassland and tall timber.

All other fires were reported either under control or expected soon to be contained in the searing disaster. Foresters have called the worst in Northern California history.

Officials said that since the fires started last Thursday there have been 275 fires in 21 counties, reducing to ashes the cover on more than 315 square miles.

The fires have cost one life, an El Dorado County volunteer fireman killed in his overturned truck; destroyed more than 120 houses, about 400 out buildings and 1,500 head of cattle, sheep and hogs. Damage has been estimated at about $4.5 million.

Five counties hardest hit by the sweep of flames fought by 5,000 men were designated disaster areas Saturday by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Four of the counties — Marin, Napa, Sonoma and Solano — ring San Francisco Bay on the north. The other, Placer County, is in the Sierra foothills east of the California capital, Sacramento.

Cartoonist Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Funeral services were planned today for film cartoonist Fred Quimby, creator of the "Tom and Jerry" series. Quimby, 79, died Thursday after surgery for an undisclosed ailment.

His body was found behind the hotel about 7:30.

Dr. William Adrio, deputy Franklin County coroner, ruled the death suicide.

The funeral will be in Canton where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schiote, reside.

Salineville Students

Join Panel Program

SALINEVILLE — Eight students of the Salineville School took part in a panel discussion held at a Sunday picnic of the National Student Education Association area unit at Wick Park in Youngstown.

Dr. Marilyn Solak, assistant professor of education at Youngstown University, was a moderator of the panel, which discussed what students like or dislike about teachers, suggestions on improving schools and subjects students would like added to the curriculum.

The students included Joan Bettis, Cathy Hull and Stephen Solak of grade five, Martin Adams and Terry Lee of grade seven and Rob Carter and Rick Hull of grade eight.

Bike-Auto Crash Hurts Youngster

A 9-year-old youngster was injured Saturday in a collision between his bicycle and an auto on an East End street, police reported.

She is Helen Sue Moxley, daughter of Herman Moxley, 1224 Erie St., who was released after treatment at City Hospital for contusions and abrasions of the left elbow.

Officers said the girl's bicycle was involved in a collision Saturday at 4:57 p. m. on Erie St. near Dewey Ave. with a 1961 model four-door sedan driven by Jessie P. Gallie, 61, of 1252 Erie St.

The woman motorist told police she was driving east on Erie St. when the child rode the bicycle out of a "blind" driveway. She said she did not see the child in time to avoid the collision.

Three cars, including a hit-skip vehicle, were involved in a collision on Pennsylvania Ave. at Sylvan St. Saturday at 11:22 p. m., police reported.

WHILE attempting to pass, the hit-skip auto damaged a 1959 model station wagon driven by Homer McWilliams, 50, of 812 Dewey Ave. and a 1960 model car operated by Richard Galloway, 800 Dewey Ave., officers said.

McWilliams told police he was driving west on Pennsylvania Ave. when the hit-skip car, attempting to pass, struck his auto and then hit Galloway's. The collision damaged the left front of the McWilliams car and both bumpers of Galloway's, he said.

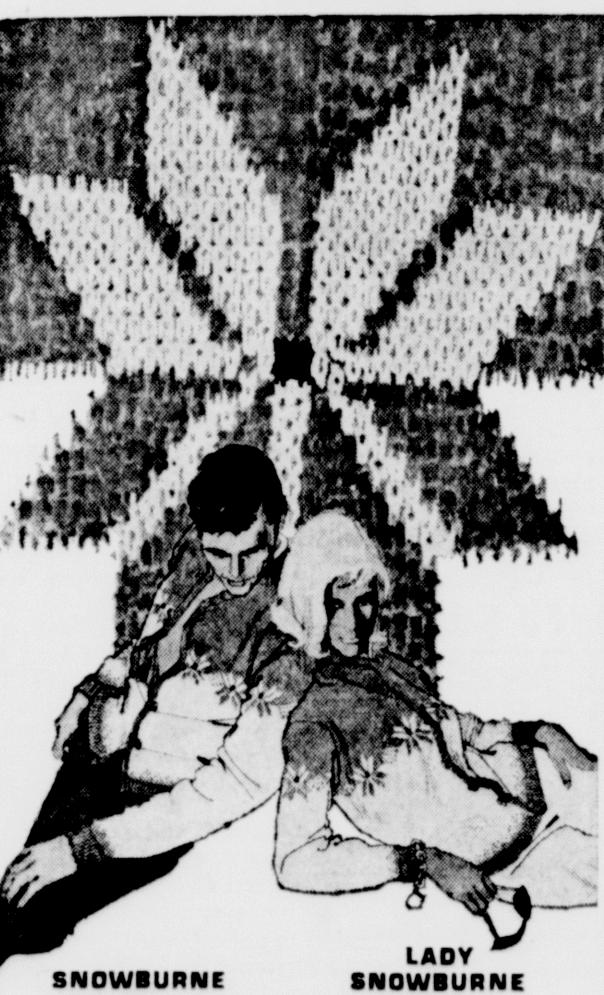

The motorists gave police a description of the offending car.

A belated report was filed with police Saturday at 2:30 p. m. on a collision that damaged two cars Friday night on St. Clair Ave. near Burrows Ave.

Marjorie McWilliams, 40, of 812 Dewey Ave. Ext. told police her 1959 model station wagon collided with a parked 1957 four-door sedan owned by William E. Boughner, 2603 St. Clair Ave.

THE WOMAN reported she was driving south on St. Clair Ave. when she swerved to the right.

Lake Victim's Rites Planned

EAST PALESTINE — Services will be held Wednesday for Nicholas F. Racz, 46, of Railroad St., Negley, who drowned accidentally when his car slid into the eight-foot deep lake at the New Waterford Fish & Game Club Friday night.

Dr. James R. Milligan, deputy county coroner, ruled the drowning accidental.

Racz, an oiler at the West Darlington Clay Co. for many years, apparently was trapped in the car when it went backward down a slope into the lake as he was leaving the club around 11:30 p. m.

Officers said he and his wife had attended a wedding reception at the club earlier in the evening and he was leaving alone when the mishap occurred.

Born Oct. 12, 1918, at Aliquippa, he was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Racz.

He served two years in the Navy, and was a member of the Negley volunteer fire department. He attended the Methodist Church.

He was married in 1941 to the former Kathleen Dunn.

Besides his widow, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Carla Sue Trevino of East Palestine; a son, Army Spec. 5 Richard Racz, serving in Viet Nam, and two sisters, Mrs. Ethel Archangel of Cleveland and Mrs. Irma Hammer of New Haven, Conn.

Services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 at the VanDyke Funeral Home with the Rev. Leland Floyd of the church in charge. Burial will be in East Carmel Cemetery.

Friends may call Tuesday night at the funeral home.

Bleaching Suggestions Are Offered For Wood

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Question: I have just taken the finish off an old bureau that I bought secondhand.

There is a nice wood underneath, with curved grains. I don't know enough about wood to say what kind it is, but it's a little darker than I want it. To get it lighter, should I use a ready-made bleach or one I mix myself or use something I have read about called a blonde bleach?

R. J. McGREW

Answer: Years ago, nearly everyone mixed his own bleach, which consisted of three parts—an oxalic acid solution, a sodium hyposulphite solution and a borax solution. Each mixture was applied separately. Some very excellent results were obtained by professional wood finishers.

But for the average person, a commercial bleach would appear to be the best bet, since it is mixed scientifically and is especially good on darker woods.

The so-called blonde bleach you mentioned is probably what is known as a blonde sealer. It isn't really a bleach at all, since it is pigmented, the same as paint. When applied carefully, it gives the wood a lighter color yet allows the natural grain of the wood to show through.

Should you wish to try the homemade bleach, mix three ounces of oxalic acid crystals in one quarter of water and apply with a stiff brush. Mix three ounces of hyposulphite with one quarter of water; apply while the first solution is still a little wet.

Molding Adds Professional Touch To Job

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

A great amount of home improvement is carried out by the average man in the course of the year, particularly when the weather changes and the need for outdoor work has ceased.

In many cases this improvement takes the form of cabinet work, painting, or other jobs which are not major efforts in themselves, but when taken all together make a decided improvement in the overall appearance of the home.

Quite a bit of the cabinet and woodworking is accomplished with the aid of unfinished furniture, which has been improved in style and design steadily during the last 10 years.

More often than not, the home mechanic who is fitting a new book cabinet or set of shelves against a wall finds that he has a gap where the back or sides of the piece touch the wall. Even after painting there remains a rather unfinished appearance, as though the new piece had been placed against the wall or in a corner and simply left to stand there.

There is a very simple and inexpensive remedy for this situation. It consists of using molding, either plain or ornamental, around the back edges of top and sides. This fills in any openings caused by any uneven wall and lends a finished, professional air to the project.

Molding will be found very effective in many other places, such as over a newly-tiled floor where it meets the baseboard, around window and door trim which is skimpy and light looking, or in any other spot requiring a bit of dressing up.

Quarter-round and half-round molding is normally used, but there are some highly decorative, carved moldings also available.

How About Wood Deck?

WHY MOW A LAWN when you can just hose off a deck? This handsome model is built of wide, weathered planks of Douglas fir that require virtually no upkeep, won't retain heat or reflect sun glare. Prow shape adds to space. Evergreens along edge lend garden atmosphere.

Got a lazy man in the house who prefers golf to lawn mowing?

which will then weather out nicely over a period of time.

WHEN LAYING out a wood deck, make it as spacious as possible because this will fast become an area that's used daily and any hour of the day. Useable space, however, isn't always equated to actual size, but more to arrangement, as with room interiors.

One trick that works well to expand usable space is to build the deck in a prow shape. Compared to the straight - sided rectangle, a prow-shaped deck offers considerably more area for little more size and cost.

To build it, simply swing the outer edge to an off-center point. Gained will be several square feet that can be put to use as a special dining nook or conversation corner.

The prow-shaped deck also has the advantage of increasing appearance values, with its interesting, irregular edge that eases into lawn or planting beds more gracefully than does a straight line.

Deck boards — wide 2-by-6s, inc. fir planks — also gain eye-interest. Lay them parallel to the house wall and see how their decreasing length to the prow's tip catches the eye.

Man Hunts Partridges And Bags 15-Foot Boa

LOURENCO MARQUES, Mozambique — Antonio Pereira went out to shoot partridges. He came home with a 15-foot boa constrictor.

Antonio was hunting in the Porto Henriques region some 50 miles from the capital when he fired at a partridge in flight. His bullet went through the head of the boa constrictor who was also stalking prey in the trees.

The serpent will be given to the famous Alvaro de Castro Museum of local fauna here, the Portuguese Lusitania News Agency said.

Miter Box Solves Problem Of Accuracy When Sawing

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

The home owner who does any amount of work around the house knows that there are many times when it is necessary to cut a strip of wood, molding or a plank in order to get a neat joint.

Of course this can be done by laying out a square and then making a mark from one corner to another. But the accuracy of this method — particularly when done by an amateur carpenter — leaves much to be desired. The best and most accurate way to make cuts for corner joints is with a miter box.

A miter box is simply an open - ended wood box without a top. Along the sides, saw guides are cut through so that they will maneuver a saw accurately.

The strip to be cut is set in the box and held against one of the sides while the saw is plied. When two cuts are made through the opposite guides, the ends of the strips will meet in a perfect joint and be ready to nail in place. Some miter boxes have a right angle cut guide in addition to the miter - cut guides.

The average good - quality miter box can be bought for less than $1 and should last the average man for a great many years, particularly if he takes the trouble to shellac or varnish it immediately after he buys it.

This will prevent any possibility of warping or otherwise getting out of shape.

The householder who contemplates a job such as laying out panels of molding on a wall, setting an edge around a table or a counter, or making a picture or mirror frame; simply cannot afford to start the operation without a miter box.

The proper use of a miter box will enable the home owner to do a professional job rather than doing slipshod work which would detract from the appearance of the finished project.

Beaver Local Blanks Leetonia For First Win, 24-0

THE OFFICIAL (extreme left) singles "good" as Beaver Local's Larry Roberts stiff arms a Leetonia defender at the goal line in scoring a two-point conversion after he scored Beaver's first touchdown Saturday night. No. 80 for Beaver Local is end Rich Shilling. The Beavers shut out Leetonia, 24-0.

Frisco Holds 3½ Game Lead

Giants Lanier Scorers Tie-Breaker As Torre Disputes Ump's Decision

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Fair is foul, and foul is fair. Hover through the fog and filthy air."

But as the air became slightly colored while Milwaukee's Joe Torre and umpire Billy Williams argued the Shakespearean concept of foul and fair, Hal Lanier of San Francisco didn't hover anywhere.

He raced home from first base with the tie-breaking run and helped the Giants to a 4-2 victory over the Braves Sunday.

The triumph was the Giants' 16th in the last 17 games and kept their National League lead at 3½ games over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The play in dispute cropped up in the eighth inning after Lanier led off with a single in a 2-2 game. Jim Davenport bunted down the first base line, and first baseman Joe Torre decided to let the ball roll, thinking it would go foul.

When he finally grabbed it, he thought the ball was foul, but Williams ruled differently.

Without calling time out, Torre angrily threw the ball to the ground and jumped into an argument with the umpire.

Lanier didn't stop to listen. By the time Torre picked up the ball, Lanier was at third. By the time Torre realized what he had done, Lanier was across the plate and the Giants led 3-2.

Elsewhere in the NL, the Dodgers whipped St. Louis 5-0, Cincinnati edged Houston 4-3 after losing 8-6, Pittsburgh nipped Philadelphia 1-0 in 10 innings and New York beat Chicago 8-6.

Ron Perranski rescued Claude Osteen in the ninth inning and saved the Dodgers' second straight shutout over St. Louis. Osteen, 15-14, didn't allow a Cardinal past second base Johnson took a pass from Snyder covering 30 yards for the winning TD and Dan Houston converted.

The loss was the second straight for Crestview who meets Lowellville Saturday at home.

Klembara, Roberts Spark Offense

By PAT BONVENUTO JR.

The revamped Beaver Local eleven opened its home season Saturday night by turning in a shocking 24-0 victory over a respectable Leetonia Bear team. The win leaves the Beavers with a 1-1 mark.

Coached by Don Ross former standout at Cincinnati University, the Beavers looked impressively in avenging a 32-6 loss suffered a year at Leetonia.

PLAYED before more than 2,000 fans under extremely humid weather conditions, the Beavers, after a comparatively uneventful three quarters offensively, broke the game wide open in the late stages of the encounter behind the brilliant quarterbacking of sophomore Dennis Klembara.

Veteran end Richard Shilling and fullback Larry Roberts, both seniors, made the big difference as they combined to keep the Bear defense loose throughout the game.

"We attribute a great deal of our success to the excellent all-around blocking. I was impressed by the stellar play of the Moore boys, Allan Copestick, Dan Wade, Art Doak and Dick Wright on the front line, while Jeff Hall, Jeff Lane and Harry Matheny all played inspired football as linebackers.

It was a great team effort.

We're looking ahead to the Springfield game away next Friday night. Knowing Copestick and Matheny as I do, I feel his Tigers will be real tough."

THE BEAVERS struck for paydirt early in the second quarter. Roberts returned Paul Casey's punt to the Bears 35. Klembara, who only several days ago recovered from eye injuries suffered in the East Liverpool game last week, ran to the 23 on a keeper around left end.

NEITHER club had any serious threats going in the third quarter, with both teams sputtering around the midfield stripe.

Midway in the final stanza,

the winners began their second touchdown drive, covering 87

yards. Roberts ran over right tackle to his own 20, good for seven yards. Klembara on a quarterback sneak made it to the 23 on a keeper around left end.

Two plays later Roberts

off one tackler, to score the first touchdown. Roberts then the ball, Beaver Local came 38, good for 42 yards. After Roberts

49ers Stun Bears With 52-24 Setback

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

John David Crow's analysis of football is strikingly simple. "There's not too much to football when you boil it down," the San Francisco running back says. "The quarterback hands you the ball, and the other nine guys knocked the other side down."

Sounds simple but Crow's 49ers teammates weren't making much progress in their National Football League opener Sunday against Chicago. John David, who had been sidelined with a broken left hand, watched from the bench as San Francisco struggled through the first period without ever passing the mid-field stripe.

Roberts Paces Browns From New Position

CLEVELAND (AP) — When Blenton Collier pulled little Walter Roberts out of his bag of spare receivers, he asked him to do a big job at slot end.

Roberts, the smallest player in the National Football League, passed his initiation with flying colors Sunday. He made a finger-tip catch from Frank Ryan on an 80-yard touchdown pass play. It pulled the Cleveland Browns out of trouble and sparked them to a victory over the Washington Redskins in the Browns' opener before a full-house of 48,208 in Washington.

"Sure I thought I was going to catch it," grinned Roberts, a 5-foot-10, 165-pounder who lost 10 pounds in the 100-degree field temperature.

"It came to me a little on the side and I did juggle it for a step or two. I don't think I broke stride, though."

Cleveland, shooting for a second straight NFL championship, had a 3-0 lead in the second quarter, on Lou Groza's 20-yard field goal in the first period, when Ryan connected to Roberts. Bob Jencks had just missed a 22-yard field goal that would have tied the score.

Roberts, picked by Collier for the slot end position after injuries to Paul Warfield and Clifton McNeil, got behind rookie defensive back Rickie Harris, took the pass at the Redskins 35 and pulled away.

Ryan hit flanker Gary Collins for a 35-yard touchdown in the third quarter. Dick Shiner, who replaced starter Sonny Jurgensen at quarterback near the end of the third quarter, connected on a 21-yard touchdown pass to Angelo Coia with less than two minutes left in the game for Washington's only score.

Collier praised his defensive unit, which held the Redskins to 24 yards and two first downs rushing.

"It was one of the best defensive jobs I've ever seen a team do," he said. "And I've never seen a performance like that of (defensive end) Bill Glass. He just kept coming and coming after that passer."

Glass and Roberts both were awarded game balls.

Browns, Colts Win; Steelers Fall

The Bears were leading 3-0 when San Francisco Coach Jack Christianson decided to let Crow show his teammates what a really simple game football can be.

John David, who came to the 49ers from St. Louis in exchange for defensive back Abe Woodson, combined on a razzle-dazzle option play, taking a pitchout from John Brodie and tossing 16 yards to Monty Stickles at the Bear 33. Moments later he rambled 18 yards into the end zone for the 49ers' first TD.

Six touchdowns and a field goal later San Francisco had a 52-24 rout of the Bears wrapped up. Four of the 49er TDs came on Brodie passes, two of them to Bernie Casey. The point total was the highest ever for the 49ers in the NFL.

In other openers, Detroit blanked Los Angeles 20-0, Green Bay routed Pittsburgh 41-9, Philadelphia upset St. Louis 34-ton 17-7, Baltimore whacked Minnesota 35-16 and Dallas wrecked New York 31-2.

The Lions protected a slim 3-0 lead for three periods against Los Angeles, then broke loose for 17 points in the final quarter. Milt Plum pitched two touchdown passes and Detroit's defense never let the Rams past the Lion 45.

Green Bay trailed 9-7 at the half against Pittsburgh as Mike Clark booted three field goals for the Steelers. But the Packers came roaring back in the second half. Bart Starr completed 17 of 23 attempts for 226 yards and two touchdowns.

Halfback Tim Brown, who resisted Eagle Coach Joe Ku-harich's attempt to convert him into a flanker during the training season, scored two TDs in leading Philadelphia's upset of St. Louis. Brown caught seven passes for 129 yards and gained 50 more running.

Cleveland's defense throttled the Redskins and had Washington shut out until the last two minutes of play. Frank Ryan accounted for both the Browns' touchdowns with scoring pitches to Walter Roberts and Gary Collins.

Johnny Unitas had two of his first four passes intercepted by Minnesota as the Vikings jumped off to a 10-0 lead, but Baltimore's defense jelled and gave Unitas plenty of time to rally the Colts back.

Dallas' defense completely stifled New York and Don Meredith's quarterbacking kept the Cowboys in command. Dallas capitalized on a fumble for one TD and a 27-yard Giant punt set up another as the Cowboys grabbed an early 17-0 lead.

Nicklaus Victor In Portland Open

PORLAND, Ore. (AP) — What's next for Jack Nicklaus, now that he has won more money in a single golf season than any other man?

Fewer tournaments a year, for one thing. And he would like, someday, to be recognized as a great golfer, maybe the best this country has produced.

These reflections by Nicklaus came minutes after he won $6,600 with rounds of 69-68-68-273 in capturing the Portland Open Championship Sunday. That boosted his season's earnings to $134,045. The previous high was Arnold Palmer's $128,230 in 1963.

Nicklaus was 15 under par for his four rounds on the par 35-37-72 Portland Golf Club course. It was his second straight victory at Portland, and his fifth championship this year.

Zorro Is Leaving Mark Around American League

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Zorro is leaving his mark on the American League. But it's not a Z, it's MVP.

Zorro is Zoilo Versalles, the driving force behind the American League leading Minnesota Twins, who reduced their magic pennant clinching number to three Sunday by walloping Washington 8-1 for their ninth victory in the last 10 games.

And as the Twins continue to close in on their first pennant, Versalles continues to improve his standing as a contender for Most Valuable Player honors.

As a matter of fact, the 24-year-old shortstop has hit at a .348 clip since Aug. 1, lifting his over-all mark to .270.

Versalles, who hit the Twins' only homer in the last seven games against the Senators Saturday and stroked three singles and drove in two runs Sunday, leads the league in runs scored with 121 and doubles with 43. He is second in the league in hits with 171 and in triples with 10.

He also has shown power with 17 homers and 69 RBI—high among the league's leadoff hitters.

In addition he has been spectacular on the base paths—one of the biggest factors in the Twins' success this season. The record. Wickersham now is 9-14
